BOTH MEN WILL MAKE POUNDAGE

Jim Jeffries Says Man Who Meets Joe Gans Is in Good Condition.

"I visited Jimmy Burns' camp at Long Beach this afternoon and found Burns in good condition. "After nearly an hour's work he weighed in at 154½ pounds. I shall visit him again and come to final understanding regarding the rules. "Gans was weighed by me Tuesday afternoon. JAS. J. JEFFRIES."

Los Angeles, Sept. 25.—Jimmy Burns is down to weight and half a pound under, according to a signed statement issued by Jim Jeffries, who visited the fighter at his training camp in Long Beach yesterday. Jeff also states that he finds Burns in good condition.

Jeff's visit was the first of the official inspection which will hold away this week. Until Friday, the day of the fight, the big fellow and Manager McCarrey will alternate between the camps and examine the men.

Should anything warrant it, they will take along a physician, who will examine either man at the option of the club officials. No pains will be spared to insure the club and public against a frost through lack of condition on either side, and Gans and Burns are sure to enter the Naud Junction ring in fit shape.

Burns boxing was easily the feature of the afternoon's sport. First he took on Frank Fields for a lively three-round session, and then, without much break in between, mixed it with Eddie Chambers for a like period. The fighting was rather rough for training stunts so near the day of the battle. Burns is strenuously personified and will not let up. Burns followed the boxing by walloping the bag and skipping the rope, and when he had finished was perspiring freely. This was the right dose, for he knocked off nearly two pounds while performing.

Gans did not have a very hard day at the Woodward Inn yesterday, and for the first time since he has been training at the Arcadia resort, the champion was greeted by a small crowd of spectators. This did not deter him from putting in a good afternoon's work, and Willie Keefe announced Joe's weight as being less than 136 pounds.

FANCY PIGEON EXHIBIT.

The pigeon exhibit for the coming fair will no doubt be the best ever held in the state as many inducements have been offered for pigeons this year that never were before. Each different color of every variety will be judged separately. Pigeons will be shown in a large hall, where the association has provided plenty of large, roomy cages and a competent judge who will give the birds a very careful consideration.

Over seventy pairs of fancy pigeons have already been entered and it is hoped fully that many more will be entered as it is desired to have a first-class showing. Those desiring to enter birds for competition should have them registered at the state fair office, this city, on or before Saturday, September 28; all birds to be at the fair grounds on Sunday, the 29th. Horace Ensign, secretary at No. 26 West Third South, will give further information.

MORE HORSES ARRIVE.

Five Speedy Ones Come in From Nevada.

A bunch of five horses joined the stable of racers now at the fair grounds for the races next week. They came from Reno and are a part of Governor Snare's racing string. There are still a number of horses to hear from and Lester D. Freed, superintendent of speed, expects more horses in during the week.

Secretary Hanson of the dog show, announces that he has over a hundred dogs entered to date and that many classes are represented. He expects more entries before the show opens next week.

SENATOR'S TRAIN IS BEHIND TIME

Lecture Scheduled to Be Delivered by La Follette Is Indefinitely Postponed.

RAILROADS ARE DISCUSSED

STATIONMAN THINKS PRESENT LAWS SHOULD BE ENFORCED.

"The coal shortage so-called," said Senator Robert M. La Follette in room 215 of the Knutsford at 1:45 o'clock this morning, "affects you people in Utah, as it does the people everywhere else. You have enough cars to carry your ore for the smelters, your coal for the corporations, but—but, my boy, you have not got enough cars to deliver the coal to you because the railroads take the cars and use them for their own service and for the service of their best customers—the big manufacturers. And where do you get off?" asked the little senator from Wisconsin, who is conceded to be the biggest trust buster in all the land in his special line.

Senator La Follette is a remarkable man in many ways. He broke into the senate of the United States at the call of the people. He defeated a machine that for years and ages had been revered as the power behind the throne in Wisconsin Republican politics. He was a governor of his state, and for a long time he did not know whether he could do more of service as governor or as senator. He went to Washington and started something.

Senator La Follette was to have spoken at the First Methodist Episcopal church. A large audience gathered there. The presentation of Mr. La Follette was to have been under the auspices of the University of Utah lecture course.

La Follette Was Delayed.

The train was late. That is all the explanation. At first there was to be only a delay of passing account, but presently the time dragged on and on and no La Follette came. At 9:40 announcement was made to the thousands of members of the audience that the train which bore Senator La Follette was on its way to leaving Ogden. The question was, would the audience wait for Senator La Follette? The answer was a chorus of "yes," that was most vociferous said it would not.

So the audience went home and the management paid back the money it had collected for admissions. Senator La Follette arrived at 11:10 o'clock and went to the Knutsford, where, until a way to deliver that passenger at the destination for which his ticket calls, at the time of the matter.

"I think a railroad or other transportation company, when it accepts a passenger, enters into a contract to deliver that passenger at the destination for which his ticket calls, at the time of the matter."

When his business agents got through with him, Senator La Follette was as cheerful as "might be expected under the circumstances," the circumstances being a tired man and a feeling of uneasiness, consequent upon the travel and more to come.

The senator said everything about railroads. He said the system of bulleting should be enforced here, as it is elsewhere, and, furthermore, he said, substantially:

"What do you think about the political situation, senator?"

"Naturally, I could not discuss that, for reasons that are obvious."

"How about yourself, senator?"

"I say it is not opportune for me to discuss the matter."

Senator La Follette said he does not believe the United States ought to keep the Philippine islands any longer than it is necessary to let go of them. "I think the country made a mistake in taking the islands, but I believe we ought to keep them until we can give them a government."

Senator La Follette does not take much stock in the possibility of war with Japan. In fact, Senator La Follette does not take much stock in anything except the railroad situation.

Senator La Follette will leave this morning at 8 o'clock for Grand Junction, Colo., where he will deliver an address. This will make the 36th lecture the senator has delivered under the present arrangement.

CONSPIRACY IN CUBA.

Governor Magoon Believes He Has Caught on in Time.

Havana, Sept. 25.—A conspiracy to start a revolutionary spirit in Cuba has been discovered. Endorsing instructions issued by Governor Magoon a number of suspicious persons believed to be connected with the conspiracy have been shadowed for several days past. It is believed that the movement is backed by New York capitalists.

Strike Leader Declares Bell Company Paralyzed in Montana.

BOYCOTT IS EFFECTIVE

INDEPENDENT COMPANY GAINING GROUND IN BUTTE.

M. J. Sullivan, grand vice president of the Electrical Workers, reached Salt Lake yesterday from Butte, where he has been directing the strike of the Bell Telephone company's linemen for the past two months. "Conditions in Montana, so far as Livingston, Red Lodge and Billings are concerned," said Mr. Sullivan, "are precisely the same as they were the day Superintendent Burdick made affidavit before Judge Hunt that the revenues of the company had been cut off for four months. Not one telephone has been put in since then and no service has been given in Butte since July 1. The independent company has begun to operate in Butte. It has 1,000 phones in operation and is putting in fifty daily."

"In Butte the Business Men's association notified the Bell company to take out their phones. Other citizens gave similar instructions. The company officials asserted that they had no men to do the work and the strikers furnished two men. They used a wagon carrying the legend 'Bell Phones Going Home.' The company had a warrant sworn out for the men, charging larceny. They were arrested and tried and the case against them dismissed."

"In Helena the Central Labor body notified union men employed at places where Bell phones were in use to strike at noon last Monday if the phones were not removed. Only the street railway men found it necessary to strike and their strike lasted but two minutes before the company agreed to the men's terms, and the phones came out. The service generally is tied up in the state of Montana."

"On Wednesday morning several places in Idaho at which the company has been reporting men engaged in construction work. I was unable to find any evidence of the work or the men."

"Proceedings have been instituted which will be argued before Judge Hunt in Helena on Thursday. So far as we are concerned we intend to declare the law and so long as we don't violate it, we are not afraid of any judge or court. On July 20 General Superintendent Sommers, in the presence of Mr. Currie, our district president, said that he had never known of a strike being conducted so cleanly as this. No damages had been done to property in any of the four states involved. Some cable trouble had occurred at Pocatello, but on investigation he had found this not attributable to the men."

"Mr. Leonard, superintendent of construction, on Aug. 21, made a statement in Helena to me and others to the same effect."

Mr. Sullivan left yesterday afternoon for the west.
